TITLE BREAKDOWN

"Unbroken Circle": The term "Unbroken Circle" symbolizes the enduring connection within a community or family. In this context, it signifies the unbreakable bond that exists among Indigenous communities and their commitment to supporting each other in the face of challenges, such as the issue of missing and murdered Indigenous relatives. The circle also represents unity, equality, and the interconnectedness of all people.

"Voices for Missing & Murdered Indigenous Relatives": This part of the title conveys the central focus of the event. "Voices" implies that the event will provide a platform for various individuals, experts, advocates, and community members to share their perspectives, experiences, and efforts related to the issue. "Missing & Murdered Indigenous Relatives" is a clear and respectful way of describing the broader scope of the problem, including all Indigenous genders, and emphasizing the familial and communal aspect of the issue.

Overall, the title "Unbroken Circle: Voices for Missing & Murdered Indigenous Relatives" encapsulates the event's intention to unite the community, raise awareness, and amplify the voices of those affected by the issue. It emphasizes the strength of Indigenous unity while acknowledging the critical need to address the ongoing challenges of missing and murdered Indigenous relatives.
